AIMS and PURPOSES

The Aims and Purposes of the Central Washington Junior Livestock Show are to teach modern selection, raising and showing techniques of beef, sheep, and hogs. To promote an understanding of the beef, sheep, and hog industry in youth, and provide healthy competition that promotes life skills, such as sportsmanship, proper decision making, and responsibility with the "hands on" approach of learning by doing. Implementing food safety and quality assurance are promoted by requiring good record keeping, proper handling of livestock feeds and additives, and the proper use of animal health products. The moral responsibility of each livestock exhibitor cannot be stressed enough.

Money for premiums, prizes, and awards necessary for the functioning of the Central Washington Junior Livestock Show are supported by funds from the State of Washington. The sponsoring agency for the Central Washington Jr. Livestock Show is the Washington State Department of Agriculture. We thank the Washington Fairs Com-mission for their continued support of our activities.

Operation and maintenance is financed through donations, member-ships, and public support. Most functions of the livestock show are accomplished by the many Volunteers that are generous enough to share their valuable time.

THANK YOU

" Welcome to the City of Toppenish “Where the West Still Lives”. We applaud and support your devotion to your livestock. You have worked extremely hard to get to this point. Remember the mornings you woke up earlier than the roosters. What about the times you were worrying and caring for your animal that wasn’t feeling well, or the times your friends invited you to go along with them, but you had “responsibilities” to attend to. Well now is the time to reap the benefits of your hard work and dedication to your animal. So take the time to enjoy the company of your family and friends at the 69th Annual Central Washington Junior Livestock Show!”

CARCASS OF MERIT PROGRAM

STEER OF MERIT (If Data Is Available)

To facilitate the collection of Steer of Merit Data all steers must be slaughtered in one single, federally inspected slaughterhouse. Washington Beef will not be grading custom or take home beef. Therefore only turn beef are eligible.

The Steer of Merit Program, which originated at this Show in 1963, is continued for this show. It is designed to give recognition and encouragement to boys and girls who manage and feed out steers that have carcasses of desirable meat quality, conformation, and cut-ability. At the same time, it gives recognition to the breeders of those calves with the right kind of genetic make-up to produce these desirable carcasses.

Steer exhibitors will not be provided Steer of Merit forms.

All aspects of the Steer of Merit are now set by the beef industry. A committee established the specifications after studying desirable carcass traits as determined by meat packers, retail buyers, federal graders, and meats research people in this area and across the nation.

Steer exhibitors are requested to provide the name of the breeder and information on the feeding of the steer, if needed. Federal meat graders give a written evaluation of each carcass when the steer is slaughtered at a packing plant under the supervision of the Federal USDA. The Steer of Merit Committee then compares the data with the established specifications and selects the Steer of Merit. Completed data sheets on all steers will be available for exhibitors, breeders, and other interested parties.
